The candidates for Sno' Queen were presented in an array of collegiate splendor at Tau Epsilon's Turkey Trot, Saturday, November 23. Five fraternities are sponsoring Sno' Queen candidates. The candidates are as follows:

Gogy Beers, who is enrolled as an A&F student, is Beta Sigma Chi's choice. Gogy is twenty years old and is a native of Danbury, Connecticut. She is President of Sigma Lambda Theta, Vice-President of Lambdae Carol Hall, a member of the Greek Letter Council, and a member of Delta Omega.

Chi Gamma Iota is presenting Betty Choniere as their candidate. Betty is a Teacher Training student. She is eighteen years of age and hails from Slatersville, Rhode Island. Betty's activities include being President of Phi Upsilon and a member of the Greek Letter Council.

The selection for Beta Iota Beta is Sally Hassila, a Secretarial Degree II student. Eighteen-year-old Sally is from Brooklyn, Connecticut, and is treasurer of Sigma Iota Beta.

Phi Sigma Nu's nominee is Grace Pettinicchi. Grace, who comes from Waterbury, Connecticut, is a BA student. The activities of this twenty-three-year-old candidate, serving as Publicity Chairman of Sigma Iota Chi, being an ARCHWAY reporter, being treasurer of Stowell House, being secretary of Delta Omega, and being a member of the Newman Club.

The sweetheart for Alpha Theta Chi is a native of Narragansett—Jan Rose. Jan is 20 years old and is a typist on the ARCHWAY and a member of the Glee Club.

Campaigning has taken place the week of December 1. There has been a competitive spirit in the air and many surprises on campus as everyone prepared for the final results at the Sno' Queen Dance.

Sigma Lambda Psi and Beta Sigma Gamma are sponsors of the Sno' Queen dance to be held on Saturday, December 6, from 8 to 12 p.m.

The sisters and brothers of the two organizations have been working extremely hard for several months to make this Sno' Queen Dance the best one ever. Decorations will be different from those of previous years.

The voting for the campus queen will be conducted by means of a check-off system. As a person goes to vote, his name will be crossed off the roster. Unless a person's name is on the roster, he will not be permitted to vote.

A great deal of hard work has been done to complete the Ad book which will be distributed at the dance.

Make it a point to vote for the right girl to reign over Bryant Campus as Sno' Queen! Be sure to step into the gym and cast your vote any time between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Friday, December 5.

with a pheasant hat. The coat could be worn sporty or as a dressy outfit. The collegiate outfit consisting of the Navy blazer and matching skirt with white drip-dry blouse and red accessories was shown by Miss Linda Kent. For that special occasion, Miss Marcia Purdy modeled a white sheath with bright pink ¾ gloves, belt, and impris.

Brooke Anne Trudell headed make-up, Donna Gale, wardrobe, and Esther Dawick was pianist for the assembly. Clothes were from the Peerless Company of Downtown Providence. The next lecture in the series will be on Thursday, December 11 at 1:00. Proper make-up will be shown by a representative of the Avon Company.

Chi Gamma Iota "Waltzes" Off With Turkey Trot Trophy

By Mike Foster

With their nimble feet floating like images of Marge and Gower Champion, Ed Amaral of Chi Gam and his petite partner, Ellie Ricci of Phi U, won the dance contest at the Turkey Trot sponsored by Kappa Tau.

Although all the competing couples excelled in "tripping the light fantastic," the winning couple's sparkling execution of the waltz spelled the difference.

President Bill Yaska of Kappa Tau awarded the illustrious trophy which will be placed in Dean Wilbur's office in the administration building.

Seven Bryant Teacher-Trainees Receiving On-The-Job Training

By Carole Olhier

At the beginning of each Teacher-Training student's seventh semester, Bryant College makes it possible for the students to have an opportunity to practice-teach in one of the secondary schools in the Providence area. This September Carol Sorensen, Martha Petrarca, Virginia Furtado, Mary Sullivan, Marilyn Morton, Barbara Kaszynski, and Charles McGonagle have taken part in this practice-teaching program.

This program calls for a regular teacher to act as a critic teacher in order to observe, guide, and direct the practicing teacher in conducting the class during the first few days of the six-months period. At the end of this time, the critic teacher grades the student on his performance over the past months and submits the grade to the college.

Both Carol Sorensen and Martha Petrarca have been assigned to Warwick Memorial High School. Carol has been teaching personal typing, Bookkeeping II, office machines, and shorthand theory. Mrs. Elizabeth Donnelly, Miss Audrey Riley, Miss Myrtle Godwin, and Mrs. Mary Knight are acting as Carol's critic teachers. Martha has been instructing classes in retailing, economics, typing, and machines. Her critic teachers have been Mr. Matteson, Mr. Vandalia, Miss Godwin, and Miss Riley. Martha has found that through her participation in many of

Chef Frank Perry, World War II Hero, Receives AOX Honorary Membership

By Edgar Caro

For the second time since the founding of AOX by a group of veterans on the Bryant campus, an honorary membership will be bestowed. Distinguished World War II veteran Frank Perry, now one of the capable chefs of Bryant's new dining hall, was unanimously voted an honorary brother of Alpha Theta Chi fraternity. Last year, Mr. William San Antonio was voted Alpha Theta's first honorary brother. A native of Riverside, Rhode Island, Frank is married and the proud father of five children.

Upon graduating from East Providence Senior High School, he served with distinction as an artilleryman in the Army from 1940 to 1946 and gained recognition for his bravery in the Pacific theater. Frank was awarded the Purple Heart and the Bronze Arrowhead for his fighting ability while defending his battery against the enemy.

After his discharge he returned home where his personality and friendliness gained him many friends in East Providence. Since coming to Bryant as a chef in 1955, Frank has impressed both the students and faculty alike with his now well known "Perry smile." Being impressed with the high caliber of AOX brothers, he has participated in arranging and enjoying their many affairs and functions. The brothers consider themselves very fortunate to have a man with such personal stature and reputation for thoughtfulness as their friend.

Frank's formal initiation will take place at the Pledge installation banquet in January. All the brothers of Alpha Theta Chi join in sincerely welcoming their new brother into the fraternity.

Co-eds Model Basic Business Wardrobe

By Irene Bollart

Good grooming and the basic wardrobe was the theme of a lecture given to the Secretarial Division on November 17 in the Bryant College auditorium by Miss Priscilla Moulton. Campus-to-career clothes were modeled by students Kathleen Carter, Beverly Emmons, Linda Kent, and Marcia Purdy.

Miss Moulton stressed the importance of a good appearance since a first impression is based on appearance. Cleanliness was also stressed since the most important and impressive wardrobe could be spoiled by uncleanness. Miss Moulton explained that in making a selection of clothes, it is important first to decide what you need and then to check the articles for line and color to the individual figure.

Miss Kathleen Carter modeled a basic Navy sheath dress with white ribbing surrounding the rounded neck and short sleeves. This outfit could easily be converted from office to date dress. Beverly Emmons modeled a beige boxy coat

New Additions to the Recreational Program

There have been three new student activities introduced at Bryant, which the Archway would like to speak briefly about at this time. With these innovations, Bryant moves into an era that will afford great enjoyment and relaxation for everyone.

For several years Bryant students have dreamed of having a swimming pool; something that would furnish even more fun than the customary basketball and bowling teams. This interest has born fruit, and the college now has the privilege of using a very fine pool at the Plantations Club in Providence.

It is interesting to note that student activities have expanded to the extent that some of our colleges have formed flying clubs for the purpose of instructing aspiring young pilots in this medium of travel and recreation. These schools are truly to be commended, for this art is both exacting and precarious.

The manly art of self-defense—boxing—is now being formally pursued by a number of students. It was a wonderful thing that a Bryant teacher would profess a desire to organize and conduct a venture such as this. This activity is not only to be praised, but it is hoped that there may ensue some intercollegiate jousts which the students will enthusiastically support.

Bryant activities have always flourished, and the College has offered a varied program; but with the advent of these three innovations, Bryant is offering the kind of diversified recreational activities usually found only in much larger schools.

Honor Roll Students Announced

Changes Occur in Dean's List Requirements

Effective this current marking period the requirements for the Dean's List will be changed. Currently all grades must be B's or better in order to qualify. Beginning with the February marking period the requirement will be an average of B on all credit courses carried by the student. This will be a weighted average computed through the use of quality points. A's will be allotted a weight of 4; B's, 3; C's, 2; D's, 1; all failing grades will be assigned zero points. An average of 3.00 will be required to make the Dean's List in the Business Administration Department. In the Secretarial Department, because of the high percentage of semester hours in skilled subjects, 3.5 will be required to make the Dean's List.

This change will give the good student who may have a slight weakness in one area a chance to offset this by high grades in a different field of study. To illustrate, a student who has three class hours of work in C's would have to offset it with three class hours of work of an "A" grade in order to have a "B" or "3.00" average.

A study of grades in past marking periods indicates that the new standard will result in increasing the number of students who will make the Dean's List and in making our criteria for making the Dean's List similar to other colleges. What is most important is the fact that it will be a fairer measure of good scholarship.

A change in the method of awarding graduation honors, based on the quality point system, is being studied.

Students making the Dean's List for the first marking period are as follows:

At the Blackboard

By Malcolm B. Clancy

One of the best liked and most respected teachers on the Bryant campus today is Professor James P. Berluti. His friendly attitude toward the students has earned for him the sincere admiration of all.

Born in Boston, Mr. Berluti moved to Revere, Massachusetts while still young. There he attended the Revere public schools and was graduated from Revere High, (where he regretfully admitted being more interested in sports than in scholastic achievements), in 1942.

James P. Berluti

Immediately upon graduation Mr. Berluti enlisted in the U. S. Coast Guard where he served until he was discharged in March 1946. While in the Coast Guard, Mr. Berluti served for two years on an ammunition cargo ship in the South Pacific as a chief electrician.

After discharge, Mr. Berluti was employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company until he entered Boston University, College of Business Administration in 1951. There he majored in accounting and received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration in 1954. While still attending college, Mr. Berluti established a part-time accounting practice which he maintained after graduation. He was first appointed to the Bryant College faculty in February 1955.

In June of 1955, while still in his first semester of teaching at Bryant, Mr. Berluti was invited by the management of Hampden Brewing Company of Springfield, Massachusetts, to join their staff as chief account-

"Labor As I See It" To Be Described By AFL Executive

Mr. John T. Curran, Legislative Representative of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations, will speak at the Delta Omega meeting, December 8, on the topic "Labor as I See It." With a most interesting background in labor, Mr. Curran is well qualified to present a picture of labor as it is today.

After he was graduated from Bishop Loughlin Memorial High School in Brooklyn, Mr. Curran went on to study at St. Francis College.

Starting with the Helena Rubenstein, Inc., Mr. Curran has had a very diverse background in labor. He was one of the original organizers and the first local president of the union in that field. He held the position of president for twelve years.

Later he went on to serve as a member of the International Union Executive Board. He also held the position of director of District 3, United Gas, Coke, and Chemical Workers, of the C. I. O. from 1948 until the United Gas, Coke, and Chemical Workers merged with the Oil Workers in 1955. At the merger convention Mr. Curran was elected International Union Vice President of the Oil, Chemical, and Atomic Workers and was placed in charge of the Washington office. At the 1956 OCAW Convention he was renominated for the same position but declined and instead served as International Union Representative. Since then he has accepted the position of Legislative Representative, which he currently holds.

In the recent elections of Na-ant. After informing Dean Gulsin of his intention to return to teaching in two years, Mr. Berluti regrettably left Bryant and accepted the position to gain valuable experience in the field of accounting. He returned to Bryant as Assistant Professor of accounting in September, 1957.

Besides being an advisor Sigma Chi, Mr. Berluti has pursued a graduate program at Boston University where he is a member of Delta Pi Epsilon, an honorary graduate fraternity, and is close to the completion of requirements for a master's degree in business education.

Married to the former Miss Rachel Paciotti of Hyde Park, Massachusetts, and the proud father of four children, Marilyn 9, Dianne 7, Robert 5, and James 2, Mr. Berluti presently lives in the Diamond Hill section of Cumberland, Rhode Island. He believes, and rightly so, that a man's hobbies change with time. Currently Mr. Berluti's hobbies are fishing, swimming, and playing handball at the Y.M.C.A. with his colleagues from the Bryant faculty.

A firm believer in student cooperation in the subjects he teaches, Mr. Berluti had the following solemn observation:

major concern over Bryant students is that they tend to worry too much over tests and grades and consequently may be putting the cart before the horse. A student's major objective should be to grasp as much knowledge as possible from each course. If students adopt this attitude and sincerely work at it, they will find that the grades, more times than not, will take care of themselves.

"Possibly the first thing that any person must learn before he becomes a real student, is that education for normal people does not come easily—it takes hard work!"

Wise words, indeed, Mr. Berluti!

Mr. John T. Curran

November 4, Mr. Curran was very instrumental in his campaign efforts to defeat the very controversial "right-to-work" law in the state of Ohio.

Winter Formal Scheduled For Rhodes on December 12

By Janet Brett and Terry Leonard

Boys, get your tucks! Girls, don your gowns! For what? For the Annual Winter Formal to be held at Rhodes on the Pawtuxet in the main ballroom Saturday evening, December 12, from 8:30-12:30 p.m.

This will be an evening of fun and frolic sponsored by the Student Senate. The activity fee paid by students at the beginning of the semester includes such functions as the Winter Formal. In other words, it's free.

The girls will be glad to know that the Student Senate has selected irresistible favors for them. This is definitely a night for the ladies, as the dorm girls will be given a late privilege.

The Student Senate Committee for the dance includes Paul Dion, Bill Newton, Sally in planning the dance. Many little extras have been provided: for example, pictures of individual couples will be taken, a refreshment bar will be set up, and tables and chairs will be scattered throughout the ballroom for those tired moments between dances.

Bryant's "Sne" Queen will reign at this dance along with her court. She will walk to her chair of honor to the music of Tony Abbott.

The Student Senate was very fortunate to engage Tony Abbott for this evening because this orchestra won the "Regional Outstanding Band of the Year" award. Following their appointment at Bryant, this great band will go to Roseland Ballroom in New York City for two weeks.

A Notice to the Boys—Flowers will Be Optional!

All students are cordially invited to pick up their invitations from their class officers. An engraved invitation is always a nice keepsake for your scrapbook.

Come one, come all to the Winter Formal. Take advantage of this wonderful offer to make your holidays complete.

Music in Review

By Gordon Moore and Roger Francoeur

Let us begin by saying that Ahmad Jamal is a pianist. The kind of piano he plays may now be and most certainly and more acutely will be, in the future, open to debate.

We would not be inclined to categorize him in style with Errol Garner, although with the public that is likely to happen. Already some DJ's compare Ahmad's drive and stimulating introduction with those of Garner, we would, however, say that Ahmad is original and possesses creative ability in his interpretations of the modern sounds. It would be dangerous at this point to claim them when he is just beginning the ascent.

In considering his background, you should know that he has spent the past six years at the Pershing Hotel, a most noteworthy spot in Chicago. With him throughout his performances at the Pershing have been his bassist, Israel Crosby, and drummer, Berenell Fournier, who also doubles on bongos. In the Windy City our man Ahmad is known as "Ahmad, the Terrible."

To date, Ahmad has such LP's on the market as Ahmad Jamal at the Pershing—BUT NOT FOR ME, which is the only one we have been able to listen to in its entirety to date. This album features such sides as "Poncia" with its fantastic Latin American influence, "But Not for Me," "No Greater Love," "What's New," "Wood'Yu," an original by Diz (Gillespie that is) and also "Moon Light in Vermont" which we think is the "Coupe De Grace."

Other LP's by this fine artist are "Chamber Music of the New Jazz," "I'm Not a Lightbulb," and two others simply titled "Ahmad Jamal."

Admad Jamal is presently on concert tour with the fabulous Dakota Staton and the new and sensational modern singing group, the Dave Lambert Singers, who recently made an appearance on the Providence scene. We are sure you will want to hear these fine young artists in person. Downbeat Magazine or any other jazz paper will have the city appearances, dates included, of this show.

By JIM SHREDDY

TIME FOR A CHANGE???

Several Bryant students have approached me on the subject of the eligibility regulations of the Bryant Athletic Department.

It would seem that in the past nothing has ever happened to bring this matter to a head. The matter we are speaking about concerns the independent teams in the basketball league in particular, but also deals with any sport conducted on an intramural basis on this campus.

It seems that the sole remaining independent team in the basketball league has three fraternity members on its roster. Two of these men are mainstays of the squad. According to the present regulations it is perfectly legitimate for these men to participate for the independents for the duration of the season.

Now the question arises—What about an independent playing for a fraternity team? In this case the rules indicate that the independent mentioned above must pledge that fraternity when pledging rolls around, or be dropped from the roster.

Now this corner would like the answer to one question. Is this fair to the fraternity involved? Suppose that the independent in question could not fulfill obligations incurred in joining the fraternity? Suppose for the sake of the question that he could not join the fraternity for some pressing reason? Then he cannot play basketball for them.

The point is this. If the independent teams can "raid" the fraternity basketball supply and use their findings for the entire season, why can't an independent play for a fraternity team for the whole season?

This is not meant to be derogatory to the independent team in the league, the fraternity members playing for it, or the fraternities involved. It is only meant to find a suitable answer to the problem. Whether it is up to the Athletic Director of the school, the Student Activities Office, or the individual fraternity athletic directors, we feel that something should be done to protect the fraternities.

On an even dimmer note it would seem that my patented "kiss of death" has even touched one we thought to be invincible. Jimmy Brown has tapered off so much since we praised him to the skies, that we wonder if we shouldn't write him an apology. It also appears that my Boston Celtics should compete in a "square circle" instead of on a court. They are becoming quite proficient with their fists with the amount of practice they are getting.

To make our terrible prediction record even worse, we will pick Phi Sig and Sigma Iota Bets to cop the men's and women's bowling leagues respectively. We also will go along with the Westerly Commuters to go undefeated with their only close competitor being Alpha Theta Chi who recently acquired the bulk of the Oilers' team. We will reserve the right to choose a champion in the girls' league until we see them play.

Westerly Commuters, Defending Champions, Open Season With 60-44 Win Over Strong Oilers Team; Chi Gamma, Alpha Theta, Kappa Tau, Also Take Openers

By Charlie Regan

The men's intramural basketball season is underway again at Bryant College. Several well balanced teams should make this year's race very exciting and interesting.

The Westerly Commuters got off to a good start by beating a fine Oilers team 60 to 44. The defending champs were back to their usual fine brand of ball hawking. Yonko Pirich led the well oiled Westerly attack with 18 points. Rounding out the remainder of the Westerly scoring was jumping jack Ray Nolletti's 17 points, Bob McVicar's 11 points and Buddy Wright's 10 points.

Actually the game was much closer than the final score indicates. The Oilers, led by the hot outside shooting of Wiatt, were only 2 points down with three minutes left in the game. Then Westerly, paced by the fast breaking of Pirich and the rebounding of Nolletti, closed the gap quickly. Orabona and Le Blanc turned in outstanding games for the promising Oilers.

In another fine game, Tau Epsilon breezed by Beta Sig, 49 to 34. Tau Ep jumped off to a fast start and held the lead throughout the whole game. Curt Holmes led the winners with 13 points and many important rebounds. Tom Hayes with 11 points, Freddy Grebien with 9 points, and the floor games of Jack Riberio and Dick Casciano were outstanding for T. E. Sherman, Iretson, and Grossman played well for Beta Sig.

Chi Gamma Iota squeaked past Beta Sigma Chi in a thriller, 43 to 39. Ed Viele and George Vlannick led the winners with 11 and 10 points respectively. Reed and Driscoll contributed 7 points apiece as the steady Chi Gamma team secured the hard earned victory. Beta Sig was led by the all-around shooting of Sherman, who was high man in the game with 16 points.

Alpha Theta Chi, paced by Ernie Famegetti, beat Beta Beta, 52 to 44. This was a close game with Alpha Theta leading by only 2 points at the half. Roach, Nolan, and Famegetti finally started clicking and the winners steadily moved away from the hard trying BIB team. Mosca with 23 points and Britto with 10 points, kept BIB in the game all the way.

Kappa Tau walloped Phi Sig, 45 to 26. The winners had the game sewed up from the opening basket.

View of pool at the Plantations Club, Abbott Park Place, Weybosset Street. Bryant students will have the opportunity to use this pool free of charge during the winter season. Schedule of hours is given below.

Phi Sig, apparently suffering from first game disorganization, couldn't get any scoring done until the second half. KT, paced by Nick Saliani's 14 points, turned in a good opening game. Also helping KT with fine performances were Morrissey, Yusko, Domahue, and Loretta.

Phi Sig downed Alpha Theta 53 to 41. Phi Sig made amends for their opening game by playing very well in this game. The one handers of Travasano with 21 points and Nero with 8 points, plus the under-the-boards shooting by O'Conner were too much for AOX. Leading the crippled Alpha Theta team were Famegetti with 21 points and Nolan with 15 points.

The Oilers simply outclassed a gallant BIB team 63 to 24. The fast breaking Oilers had too much for the losers and ran away with the game from the opening tap. Holden with 26 points and Orabona with 20 points were the big men for the high flying winners. Britto was the only man who was able to hit for BIB, with 13 points.

Tau Epsilon downed the Raiders in a tight game 38 to 49. Showing a smooth working attack, TE gradually pulled away from the Raiders near the end of the game. Curt Holmes paved the way to victory with a steady 20-point effort. Turning in fine games for the winners were Tom Hayes, Jack Riberio, Dick Casciano and Fred Grebien. Last season's scoring leader, Dick Cooper, got off to a good start by tossing in 23 points for the Raiders.

Birthday-Christmas Party, Sponsored By Alpha Theta; Set for December 7

By Edgar Care

A combined birthday and Christmas party will be given by the brothers of Alpha Theta Chi for the children of St. Aloysius Home on Sunday December 7 from 1 to 5 pm. The party will be in honor of AOX's adopted Korean son Lee Jeh Kon. There will be entertainment and refreshments.

The highlight of the afternoon will be a special visit from Santa Claus with gifts for all the children. Fun and frolic in the best Christmas spirit will be the rule of the afternoon.

Despite an enormous rebuilding job, Alpha Theta has come up with what is hoped to be one of the strongest basketball teams in the league. After winning their opening game they lost the second one in a close battle all the way. This was due mostly to a rash of injuries to key players. Now strengthened by some able pledges, they figure to be in close contention for the title.

The sharp shooting bowlers of AOX are still in hot pursuit of the Bryant championship. Now in second place, one point behind the leaders, they are determined to regain the top spot.

Alpha Theta Chi again has an excellent group from the freshman and preparatory classes as their pledges. This year's group of prospective brothers is the largest in the fraternity's history. During Pledge Week they have been identified by their hats and name cards. The successful candidates will have their formal initiation at the Pledge banquet sometime in January.

contestants and enthusiastically applauded this year's Bryant champions.

Swim Party

On the Friday preceding the holidays the brothers of Chi Gam, the sisters of Phi U, and their prospective pledges enjoyed a Splash Party at the Plantations Club's swimming pool in downtown Providence.

This is the second consecutive semester that such an evening has been arranged. These proved so enjoyable that plans for an ice skating party are now being discussed.

Sports Whirl

In their initial start of the new hoop season, Bob Scherliza's Chi Gam basketball squad won an uphill, come-from-behind victory over a fine Beta Sigma Chi Club.

Two days later Jimmy Walsh paced the CGI Keglers to a rousing 3-1 upset of Phi Sig's bowling team.

Thoughts on "Help Week"

By Sandy Sottile

Monday, December 1, ushered into being another HELP Week at Bryant. For five days, would-be fraternity members proved their right to be full-fledged brothers of the organizations of their choice. HELP Week had its origin in the lesson of self humility and in the suppression of the individual for the benefit of the group. How many of the 1958 pledges were sincerely interested in these lofty ideals? A good guess would be the pledges through was a stubborn desire not to be labeled a quitter rather than a consuming inspiration to live up to anything particularly spiritual.

What does the HELP in Help Week mean? Is it a cry for succor by a pessimistic pledgee who cannot see tomorrow but only the tortures of today? Hardly! While this element may be present it is not the important part of Help Week.

Help Week, as the person with an unbiased eye sees it, is not any one thing. It originated with the idea of teaching the individual, through humility, how to get along with the group. With the passage of time, however, it was found that the aspect of humility was being exploited and the concept of group identity remained stagnant.

Here at Bryant the original Help Week has reached a refined status called Help Week. Now the pledges' energies are directed towards constructive endeavor among worthwhile charitable organizations in the Providence area. Thus the two ideas are brought together, and the result is obvious. Not only do the charities gain help which is much needed, but also the pledges too learn the lesson of group activity.

In a broader sense HELP Week perhaps signifies a growing maturity. It took mature minds to crystallize the idea, and it takes mature minds to participate in its activities.

Campus Capers

I guess it is time for a public apology. In my last article I mentioned a little Nash Rambler pulling alongside your Caddy. It seems that those who drive those foreign pieces of steel instead of Detroit steel had their feelings deeply hurt. I'm sorry! Believe me, if your foreign steel can catch that Detroit Caddy, still more power to you and all hats off. OK! Are we friends again?

My last word of sympathy goes to Bryant's latest pledgees. Are you feeling Night you'll feel lower, so chin up. Ails well that ends well, and it's practically over. Imagine, no more howling to brothers and sisters, working like a busy beaver, taking orders, etc. My goodness, when it's all over, you'll have so much leisure time you'll be bored stiff. Gee, maybe we should make it one month instead of one week. No? Why?

I'd better stop here on that old saying "Have gun, will travel." This won't work out, for if any pledgee has a gun, my traveling days will be over.

Do you still have that worn out, abused, beaten up depressed feeling? You do. Well, for Heaven's sake get out of that rut and do something about it.

Till we meet again, I remain your friend in misery.

Sigma Lambda Theta Admits 15 Pledgees

By Janet Cote

Sigma Lambda Theta's new pledgees are having a hectic time this week. The fifteen pledgees who are quite obvious on campus in their red and white attire are anxiously awaiting Friday night.

Those pledging are Irene Bollart, Linda Feldman, Connie Fialkiewicz, Linda Florman, Mary Jean Glass, Dorcas Holden, Lynn Jenny, Jackie Larkin, Marilyn Strine, Pat Mazur, Joan Percy, Kathy Seiser, Pat Tesani, Yvette Silva, and Helvi Karro.

The sisters and pledgees of Theta wish the best of luck to Gary in the Sno-Queen contest and offer their full support.

Are you feeling low, middle heavy, and full of calories? Do you feel depressed at the thought of more books, more homework, and more tests? Do you have nightmares about food plus the added touch of exams?

Yes, you do feel that way? Good, join the crowd and keep your head up high, for better days are coming. Don't give up the ship. Show them all who the boss is.

As for that extra weight, that can easily be lost at Sigma Lambda Pi's Sno' Queen Dance. Jump around to the dance music and just watch those pounds roll off!

Delta Omega members will just be losing those pounds when, alas, Monday night, at their banquet in Admiral Inn, right back home will those pounds come.

A word of congratulations to the Masquers for their superb interpretation of "You Can't Take It With You."

DEX Sisters Make Sno' Queen Banners At Poster Party

By Roni Nunes

Interviews were held on the 17th, 18th, and 19th of November by the sisters of Delta Sigma Chi for those interested in joining the sorority. The turnout proved very satisfactory to the sisters.

Last Friday the sisters held a tea at Arlene Corraiti's house for their pledges. Both the sisters and the pledges enjoyed themselves. After the tea at a short meeting, the members of the sorority decided on the selection of new members.

On Saturday a poster party was held with the brothers, Alpha Theta Chi, in preparation for the Sno' Queen Campaign. Another poster party is being planned at Bill San Antonio's.

DEX is also making plans for Help Week and for its initiation of pledgees.

Grace Pettinicchi, Sno' Queen Candidate For Phi Sigma Nu

By Ray Phillips

Phi Sigma Nu has selected as its candidate for the 1958 Sno' Queen, Grace Pettinicchi. Grace, a sister of Sigma Iota Chi is a fourth semester BA student and hails from Waterbury, Connecticut. While at Bryant, Grace has been active in many college organizations. Besides being a sister of S.I.C. of which she is publicity chairman, Grace is a member of the Archway, Newman Club, and secretary of Delta Omega. The brothers of Phi Sig feel that they have selected a girl that both the fraternity and the students of Bryant would be proud to have reign as their annual Sno' Queen.

Six letters have been received from recipients of Care Packages which were sent by the frat last semester. Two of the letters from Bad Toelz, Germany have been translated. Both letters expressed appreciation and gratitude for the "generous gifts from the United States." The other four letters are still in the process of being interpreted by the "foreign translation department" of the fraternity.

Kershaw Mapping BIB Pledge Walk

By Dick Biele

The fraternity has begun Help Week with its pledgees, and it is sure they are having as much fun as the brothers did when they pledged. Pledgemaster George Kershaw has many a trick up his sleeve, including the famous "Walk." The prospective brothers are one of the best groups B.I.B. has seen in many a semester, and all agree they will be a credit to the fraternity.

The long-awaited announcement of Beta Iota Beta's candidate for Sno' Queen was made last Saturday night: she is Miss Sally Hassila of Brooklyn, Connecticut, and a sister of Sigma Iota Beta Sorority. Sally, who was runner-up in the contest of Miss Connecticut last year, was the unanimous choice of the fraternity. The brothers are sure they have a sure winner for Sno' Queen.

B. I. B.'s bowling team rolled over Alpha Theta as predicted in the last issue, by sweeping four points. This win put the team in a tie for third place with Chi Gam, whom the fraternity will face next. This year's race for the much-coveted trophy is the tightest in years. There are only two points separating the leading team from fifth-place.

A special meeting was held in Warwick Tuesday night for the prospective pledgees. Rules and regulations were explained, and an informal stag party followed.

Beta Sigma Chi Busy With Pledge Party, Sno' Queen Campaign

On Friday night, November 21, the new pledgees of Beta Sigma Chi were invited to a party given at a private club in Providence. The pledgees of Beta's sister sorority, Sigma Lambda Theta, were also invited to attend.

The brothers are now making plans for a Christmas party to be given for the children at the Saint Aloysius Home in Greenville. Holiday parties at the Orphanage have become an important part of Beta's activities.

Beta Sigma Chi's candidate for Sno' Queen is a cute chick with an infectious smile—Gloria Beers. "Goey," who is president of Sigma Lambda Theta Sorority, comes from Danbury, Conn., and lives in Carroll Hall. She's an A & F senior, Secretary-Treasurer of the Senior Class, and a member of Delta Omega.

Dorm Students Enjoy Buffet Dinner and Dance

The Dormitory Council's dinner-dance held on November 24 was a huge success. Dinner was served buffet style in the cafeteria, and a dance followed in the gym from 7:30 to 11:00.

The pink table cloths and candles added a formal touch to the dinner. Turkey, ham, beef, steak, and all the trimmings were served. Everyone had a good time and many expressed a desire for another banquet next semester.

The Council wishes to extend their thanks to the cafeteria staff, the Stardusters, and to Kappa Tau for the use of their decorations in the gym.

Miss Louise Burrill Named APK Advisor

By Jeanne Martin

The Faculty Dining Hall was the scene of a Coffee Hour on Wednesday, October 15, given by the sisters of Alpha Phi Kappa in honor of Miss Louise R. Burrill.

Carol Zinno, President, welcomed Miss Burrill as the sorority's new advisor. The sisters were then given an opportunity to meet Miss Burrill and refreshments were served.

The Bryant gym, decorated in the eerie atmosphere of a graveyard, was the scene of APK's Tombstone Trot on the evening of October 18.

The 250 persons attending danced to the music of Dick Caruso's Band. Four lucky people were the recipients of hit record albums given as door prizes.

As an extra attraction, Al Merrow, a Bryant freshman, competed in a "drum war" with the band's drummer.

The sisters have organized a bowling team this fall. Also they are now beginning practice for the coming basketball season.

They said it couldn't be done...until the Wright Brothers flew this plane for 59 seconds in 1909. Today flying is so much a part of modern life that 40 American colleges offer regular flying courses, many of them for degree credit.
